Dalcroze Eurhythmics

Introduction to Music - Dalcroze Eurhythmics: Eurhythmics is a method of music education that teaches all elements of music through physical motion, incorporating the idea that music comes from the original instrument, the human body. Rhythmic sense, listening, singing, and muscular coordination are developed simultaneously. Eurhythmics unlocks creativity and opens the door to enriched and enlivened music making by combining rhythmic unity between the eye, ear, mind, and body in the experience. It is a unique, joyful, and powerful education in music. Recommended before the study of a musical instrument and beneficial while taking lessons.
